Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 10-21, and 40-60, drawn to a foamed fiber, classified in class 428, subclass 315.7.
- II. Claims 22-39, drawn to a method of making a foamed fiber, classified in class 264, subclass 515.
- III. Claims 61-72, drawn to a melt extrusion process of a thermoplastic foam, classified in 264, subclass 419.
- IV. Claim 73, drawn to a foamed thermoplastic article, classified in class 428, subclass 304.4+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions (I, II) and (III, IV) are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, inventions (III, IV) are related to a foamed article having a smallest dimension equal or less than 0.5 mm, which is not required by the inventions (I, II).

Inventions II and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as one that a blowing agent and a nucleating agent are added and mixed with a polyester resin at the same time so as to eliminate the first step of forming a solution of the blowing agent and the copolymer.

Inventions III and IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as one wherein a molecular relaxation time is less than 1 msec.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: (i) claims 1-21: a foamed fiber; (ii) claims 40-47: a self-crimping filament, (iii) claims 48-54: a low density fiber with a hollow core and (iv) claims 55-60: a low density fiber with irregular longitudinal surface effects.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Since the restriction is complicated and requires more than three groups, a written restriction letter is deemed necessary.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Hai Vo whose telephone number is (571) 272-1485.
